

PROJECT UPDATE

HONEY CREEK CORPORATE

92ND STREET BRIDGE TO CLOSE

As part of the Zoo Interchange project, the 92nd Street bridge, over I-94, will be closing long-term on February 3, 2015. Demolition of the bridge will take place during the overnight hours of February 5 through 7. Over the next several months, the bridge will be reconstructed and widened, with a projected opening in late 2015. Prior to the closure of 92nd Street, 84th Street, under I-94, will reopen and will be used as the primary detour route.

Due to the space needed for construction equipment and bridge widening, access to Honey Creek Corporate Center will only be available via 84th Street during the reconstruction of the bridge. Building #4 will continue to be accessible via 84th Street to Dana Court to Chester Street.

Please be assured that the project team is aware of the great impact this nearby construction has on your daily lives and that we will continue to coordinate this work in the most efficient way possible.
