An institutional TOEFL test is given at Lakeland College a few days before each term begins. If you achieve the required score on the test, you may go directly into academic classes without studying in the ELI. At the end of each semester, your English proficiency will be evaluated using the test, a writing sample, an interview, and other measures. When you successfully pass this combination of criteria, you may enter an academic program at Lakeland. If you do well but are not yet ready to enter an academic program full time, you may take some academic classes and some ELI classes.

All international applications are processed on a rolling basis and there is no deadline. Your application for admission and supporting credentials should be submitted as early as possible to allow sufficient time to process your application, obtain your visa and arrange for transportation.
